While the natural advantages of such an arrangement with our nearest neighbors are sufficiently plant, the difficulties to be overcome in seeking its accomplishment may not, to say the least, be any greater in another direction. The quotation given of process diags in the British Farliament is by no means conclusive of the suppossibility of making any treaty of reciprocity between the Hawaiian Kingdom and any of the Colonies; it simply shows (what we have all along assumed) that such a treaty if antered into mould require the sately of the Rome Government to operative. But the point to which we would allude, is the fact that our brethren to the north of us have been falking of reciprocity with the Sanwich Islands. Mr. Hugh Nelson, member of the House of Commons, made a motion upon the subject, Mr. DeCosmos seconding, praying that steps may be taken for establishing reciprocal trade between Canada and the Sandwich Islands. Although the module of the state of the stat
